

“The ancient village I had known for what now seemed only for short years was passing, had passed. The Grocer was dead. The Chief- ‘the last Muhtar of Balgat’- had reincarnated the Grocer in the flesh of his sons” (Lerner 1958, p. 42)

The Politics of Economic Development

Section 2

---

Sima Biondi

Fall 2024

Gov 20: Foundations of Comparative Politics

- 1 Revising our discussion norms
- 2 Handout
- 3 Discussion

The goal of this section is to start to explain patterns of industrialization (20th-century economic development):

1. understand the differences between of industrialization theories
2. implications of these theories, and
3. understand their limitations

1 Revising our discussion norms

2 Handout

3 Discussion

Before we jump into discussion I wanted to revisit the norms we discussed last week

- Section 1
- Section 2

1 Revising our discussion norms

2 Handout

3 Discussion

Split into groups and fill out the following

- Author: Who are the group of authors that make this argument? Are there subgroups?
- Approach: What school of approach do the readings take?
- Dependent Variable (DV): What is the dependent variable?
- Independent variable (IV): What are the independent variables?
- Probabilistic?: Is this theory probabilistic or deterministic? How many right paths are there?
- Mechanism: What is the link between cause and effect?
- Applications: Where in the world does this theory apply, and why? Are there reasons why it shouldn't?

Overview

---

1 Revising our discussion norms

2 Handout

3 Discussion

The goal of this section is to start to explain patterns of 20th-century economic development:

1. understand the differences between of industrialization theories
2. implications of these theories, and
3. understand their limitations

Important links

- Section website
- Week 2 recap

sbiondi@g.harvard.edu